

1 Check for Completeness of Input Batches

Usage

The check verifying whether or not input batches have been logged on for all input materials of an operation is used when operations are logged on. You now intend to use this check also when input batches are changed.

Prerequisites

Procedure

Result